MEDICINAL.

It looks as if a man's back is the center of strength when he is straining to lift or haul a heavy weight. But the center of strength is not the back, but the stomach. There's no strength in the back of a giant if he's starving. All strength is made from food, and food can only be converted into strength when it is perfectly digested and assimilated. When the stomach is diseased, the nutrition of food is lost and physical weakness follows.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes men strong and muscular, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food eaten.

"I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 25 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a number of remedies without success. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach. I felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor work. A friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken three bottles and it has accomplished a permanent cure."

The Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Like a Comet

This famous remedy does for the stomach what which it is unable to do for itself, even if but slightly disordered or overburdened.

Kodol

supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles and membranes of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. It cures indigestion, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, nervous dyspepsia and all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying and strengthening the glands, membranes of the stomach and digestive organs.

FLORIDA ORANGES.

People in this section of the country will have cause to rejoice over the news that real Florida oranges are in the market again. The stock that is being offered at present is a trifling green, and hardly as fine as the reputation of the average Florida orange, but all the commission men look for a marked improvement in the quality in a few days. All the buyers are grasping up the southern fruit in preference to the California or Italian stock. It has been years since there was a great crop of Florida oranges offered to the American people, and as a result they are simply hungry for them. No one admits that it is possible for an orange to grow outside of Florida and compete with the southern in taste. The heavy frosts of a few years ago killed all the trees that were not protected, and as a result all the growers have been waiting for their groves to come up again. Already there is a promise of 2,000,000 boxes of crop this year, or more than twice what was gathered last year. The effect of this situation of the market will be to divert that number of boxes that have been supplied from the California market to Europe and other sections remote from the East, all of which will benefit the local trade. The fruit will arrive in better condition from Florida than it could from the west, and the commission men will lose less through decay. In addition to this, the fruit will not be packed as tight as that from the west, consequently a better appearance will result on the table.

THE ALLEGED BOGUS BABY.—A striking incident of the trial yesterday in Berlin of Countess Isabella Wierska Kwiecki, who is charged with presenting a male child, not her own, as the heir to an estate at Wroblewo, whereas the child is alleged to be the son of a peasant girl, was the appearance before the court of the supposititious son of the countess beside the eldest boy of the peasant girl referred to. Both boys were dressed alike. While the persons present in the court arose in a body and craned their necks forward to see the children, the jurors gathered about the two boys in groups. The impression made was indecisive. Some of the experts said they saw a great resemblance between the supposed little count and the elder boy of the peasant girl, while others contended there was a family resemblance between the younger boy and the Countess Isabella. An Austrian captain, named von Ziegler, testified that the second child was born in December, 1896. The girl, he added, reported to him that she had given this child to a childless couple, to which arrangement the captain gave his consent. He never saw the child himself. Various witnesses from Wroblewo gave testimony favorable to the countess. Some of them who saw her immediately after the reported birth of the little count said they were fully convinced that no fraud had been perpetrated. Detective Taad, of the Paris police, testified that he had instituted inquiries among the Paris midwives, and had discovered one, Mme. Ramol, who said that a foreign lady, speaking French with a German accent, tried in July, 1896, to procure a newborn boy from her. When shown a photograph of the Countess Isabella, Mme. Ramol said she recognized it as being that of the foreign lady who had tried to procure a boy.

ALMOST SPANKED TO DEATH.—Harvey Miller, a farmhand, of Cedar Point, Minn., was spanked almost to death recently by a machine of his own contrivance. Miller after perfecting other contrivances arranged a spanking machine. The person to be spanked is strapped flat down on a board, while a strong hard-wood paddle operated by an electric motor does the work. Two dials are printed 1 ages from 2 to 16, so that the force of the blows can be regulated according to the age. On the other are the words, "light, fair, good, hard, serious," to correspond with the offense for which punishment is to be inflicted. Miller had finished the mechanism, and after vainly attempting to secure a friend to try it had himself strapped down on a board while a number of friends operated the works. The paddling was started at age 2, slight, and gradually turned on until age 16, serious, was reached. Miller was by this time roaring for mercy and promising to be good, while the onlookers were rolling on the floor, doubled up in laughter, not knowing that Miller, the inventor, had been terribly punished. Miller's strength was rapidly falling when his friends noted his condition, but not being familiar with the machine were unable to make it stop. Miller had lost consciousness when someone released the buckles of the straps which held him down and rescued him. Miller's first act on regaining his senses was to destroy the "mother's help."

Only one remedy in the world that will at once stop itching of the skin in any part of the body. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Can a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand?

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness, and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Richard Gibson.
